DID YOU KNOW?

The Small Carpathian wine region is the oldest, historically most famous, and largest wine-growing region in Slovakia. Located in the southwest of the country, it stretches from the confluence of the Morava and Danube rivers to Čachtice, the home of legends surrounding Countess Elizabeth Báthory, and from the hills of Hlohovec to Skalica in the Záhorie region.

The region is characterized by a specific microclimate where grapes ripen under the mild temperatures of late summer and autumn. This gives local wines a unique freshness, elegance, and balanced acidity. Within this small area lies an unusual concentration of soils with diverse geological compositions. Vineyards with a unique terroir have given birth to distinct, varietally expressive wines that have been valued in gold since the Middle Ages.
